WHAT, FOR YOU, MAKES THE PERFECT RIESLING?

Superb fruit from a fantastic vineyard is the starting point for any 'perfect' wine. We source our riesling grapes from Jack and Lois Doeven's vineyard at Drumborg, in the Henty wine region of southwest Victoria, as it produces great fruit. For me, a great riesling should display a genuine sense of place, show generous yet elegant flavours balanced with fine acidity, finesse and grace, while having an underlying power and structure that also encourages cellaring.

2013 Di Sciascio D'Sas Drumborg Riesling

This faraway region has long had two champions for its finely boned and articulated rieslings, first Seppelt, then Crawford River. Every extra maker is a bonus, as this perfectly framed, minerally lime and green apple wine shows. It is described as 'kabinett' in style, but the flinty acidity is hiding such residual sugar as there may be, so think dry. 11.5% alc.
